

OLD ROSEBUD FAILS IN WITHERS STAKES

Big Crowd Sees Charlestonian Win a Stirring Race From Gainer.

FAVORITE FINISHES LAST

Mission First in Steeplechase—Whitney's Meeting House Is Defeated.

BELMONT PARK, May 30.—Racing flourished in all its glory and tantalized its followers with all its uncertainty to-day when a crowd of 25,000 persons turned out to testify to the popularity of the sport of kings and at the same time gloat over the defeat of Old Rosebud, the vaunted champion of the West.

There were other incidents, it is true, but the crushing defeat of the winner of the Kentucky Derby overshadowed them all. Subjects of talk before the rest of the Witheres field showed their heels to Old Rosebud were the sterling victory of August Belmont's Mission in one of the best steeplechases ever run in this country and the defeat of Harry Payne Whitney's imported horse Meeting House, in a finish that stirred the heart of every racer. Then came Old Rosebud's appearance on the track, while thousands acclaimed him for his past triumphs. Less than a minute and forty seconds later the great son of Uncle was unnoticed while the cheers rang out for the best of his conquerors, the bay gelding Charlestonian, owned by J. W. Messervy and trained by G. better known as Whitney, Langdon.

There were no excuses for Old Rosebud, but on the contrary it was his erratic running that exalted Charlestonian at the expense of J. L. Holland's Gainer, which would have won the race to certainty but for being carried wide by Old Rosebud on entering the stretch. As it was, a large proportion of experienced judges agreed that the British lion Gainer had crossed the line in the lead, but as ever the crowd accepted the official verdict in favor of Charlestonian as correct and turned to congratulate the winner of a great race as a great race winner in the thirty-nine years that the Witheres has been a turf fixture.

So great was the fear of Old Rosebud that the thirty-four-year-old of moderate character turned out to oppose him and battle presumably for second and third money. It had been hoped that Harry Payne Whitney's Futurity winner Pennant would be added in this case. The Western champion would not have been such a topheavy favorite. Instead of adding Pennant Mr. Whitney scratched his other entry, Trumps, while J. W. Messervy elected to add the bay gelding Charlestonian and the pencil was run through the name of his other entry, Addie M. Superintendent was added to make the field up to five starters. Old Rosebud was quoted at odds of 1 to 5, so that there was little wagering on the result, except that Roamer and Superintendant were heavily backed for the place. Against Charlestonian odds of 1 to 10 could be obtained, with 6 to 1 laid against him taking the place.

As the horses paraded to the post nearly 3,000 persons who occupied the free infield rushed over the crowd settling down to witness an unexpected battle. The real thrill came when Old Rosebud broke away from the pack and headed the race. He was seen to be a quick breaker, had been beaten by the barrier by Charlestonian. Burlington came in second, but Old Rosebud, being his best foot forward, was in the lead when the turn was made.

Gainer joined him on the outside and when it was seen that Old Rosebud could not draw away the crowd settled down to witness an unexpected battle. Finish of the Mineola handicap won by Helen Barbee, No. 12, which shows in the middle of the track. Meeting House, No. 18 on the saddle blanket, ran second, and is seen on the rail. Directly behind the winner is Trand, No. 6. Back of Meeting House is Tartar, No. 8.

CORNELL BEATS PENN BY A DOUBLE STEAL

Regan and Sayre Pitch Good Ball, but Cornellian Is More Effective.

BILLS AND DONOVAN STAR

A Pass and an Error in the Eighth Inning Figure in Winning Runs.

ITHACA, May 30.—Cornell beat Pennsylvania to-day by a score of 3 to 1 in the first of a series of games which may have an important bearing on the intercollegiate championship. Cornell won the game in the eighth inning, when after Sayre had passed Donovan Bill singled. Then Bills and Donovan worked a double steal. Donovan getting home on the play and Bills going to second. After Grossman had fouled out Adair went to first on Schimpf's error. Faber followed with a single scoring Bills. The game was a splendid pitchers' battle between Regan and Sayre, and though the Cornellian was more wild he was a trifle more effective.

In the seventh singles by Halsted and Keating scored Adair, who had singled, but Penn came back in the eighth and scored on Mind's three base hit. The score: PENNSYLVANIA. HARVARD NINE HITS OUT EASY VICTORY

Shatters Brown's Championship Hopes by Winning to Tune of 12 to 1.

CRAM IS BADLY BATTERED

Knocked Out of Box in Three Innings—Crimson Shines in the Field.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 30.—Brown's chances for the intercollegiate baseball championship for 1914 were shattered to-day when Harvard trimmed the nine to the tune of 12 to 1. At no time were the Brownies dangerous, the boys from Cambridge fielding brilliantly and hitting the ball to all corners of the field.

Cram started on the mound for Brown, but lasted only three innings before he was out. Crowell relieved Cram at this point, but he was unequal to the task, six innings crossing the plate before the Crimson players were retired.

Mahan kept the home team's field scattered and backed by wonderful hitting from his infield and outfield both came through with flying colors. Circus catches by Mitchell and Ormsby were features.
